

Darwin Week 2012

All events free and open to the public!

Tuesday Feb. 7th

Film: "Charles Darwin and the Tree of Life"

Narrated by David Attenborough (BBC)

Scientific panel discussion to follow

Movie starts at 7 pm in LSIII Auditorium (Rm 1059)

Wednesday Feb 8th

Reception: Endless Forms Most Beautiful
Photo and Art Competition

5-6:30pm Art Alley, 2nd floor SIU Student Center

Showing Feb 1st-17th

Thursday Feb 9th

Public Lectures: Dr. Massimo Pigliucci

Professor of Philosophy at the Graduate Center of the City University of New York presents:

"The many meanings of 'doing theory' in biology"

12 noon in the Guyon Auditorium in Morris Library

"Nonsense on stilts"

7:30 pm in the Student Center Auditorium

Reception and book-signing to follow in the Old Main Lounge

All Month: Morris library will also feature a display case in honor of Darwin Week.

Sponsored by the University Honors Program, College of Science, Sigma Xi and the Departments of Geology, Microbiology, Philosophy, Plant Biology, and Zoology. With special thanks to the Darwin Day Committee

www.DarwinWeek.siu.edu